

Juliet Austin Brown

1850-1950 Lehi Centennial History

Juliet Austin Brown, daughter of John and Emma Grace Austin, was born April 17, 1860, in Studham, England.

The family joined the Latter-day Saint Church in their native land and emigrated to America, arriving in Salt Lake City, August 2, 1868. They left the following day for Lehi, which has been their home since that time.

Juliet is the tenth child of a family of seventeen children.

At the age of eighteen, she was married to John Brown and to that union eleven children were born: John Jr., (deceased), Hector, George B. (deceased), Ruby B. Taylor, Emma B. Lott, Michael (deceased), Alexander, Darrow, Denzil, Eldon, and Lowell A.

Juliet has always been a diligent church worker. She has been a Sunday School teacher, also a Relief Society teacher for many years. At the time of the division of Lehi Ward, she was chosen the president of the Lehi Fourth Ward Relief Society in which office she served 22 years. Upon being released, she was made chairman of Sunshine Work for the sick and comforting those in trouble.

At this writing, Juliet is looking forward to her ninetieth birthday, April 17, 1950. She has very good health, active in body and alert in mind, taking care of her family. She is grandma to 45 grandchildren, 43 great-grandchildren, and 8 great-great-grandchildren.
